On 26 January, at about 11.10 am, there were strange gas emanations in the atmosphere (I thought it was a gas leak), it smelt like sewage. I couldn't realize what was going on, I thought this was happening at home, but then by talking to the neighbours we all realized that the same was happening to everyone. The smell made my nose itch and smart (I am allergic). Afterwards, we found out it came from Botnia, which polluted the air.
